Meet a Variety of Needs with One e-Portfolio System

iWebfolio is a scalable solution, enabling institutions to efficiently manage deployments of any size. Institution-created templates and rubrics, combined with easy portfolio sharing, allow both individuals and institutions to maximize the benefits of this e-portfolio system.

Templates: A Multi-Purpose Framework

Institutions can develop and manage template collections that are accessible exclusively to their users. Templates and measures serve multiple purposes, giving individuals a space to demonstrate achievement and receive feedback, while supplying institutions with data for assessment. Institutions can design templates that give users varying degrees of creative control. Faculty can enable consistent review with templates and rubrics, or allow users to create entire portfolios of their own design.

Shared Templates and Measures Library

The Shared Templates and Measures Library (STML) is a cooperative repository of content that encourages sharing of best practices among iWebfolio institutions. In addition, AAC&U's VALUE rubrics are available and may be modified to meet institutional needs.
